OPENING OF THE PATHWAY FROM PROSPECT PARK TO CONEY ISLAND.

Eight Thousand Members of Bleyele Clubs Throughout the Country, Including Five Hundred Women, Take Part in a Grand Parade - Militiamen and Policemen on Wheels, Too-Crowds Witness the Event.

Brooklyn was alive with wheelmen yesterday upon the occasion of the parade held by the Brooklyn Good Roads Association, to cele-brate the formal opening of the bicycle pathway from Prospect Park to Coney Island. Four years ago the wheelmen held a similar event. but yesterday's parade was the largest ever held by eyelers in this country.

Wheelmen from all sections of the country. took part. The city club members, attired in up-to-date uniforms, and the rural cyclist, rid-ing in long trouvers and derby hat, were equally conspicuous. The women proved to be an at-tractive feature, and the costumes worn must have set prespective lady cyclists specular-ing as to the proper costume for cycling. One woman dressed in a white finnel bloomer suit, with zebra-striped hose and a white parking cap, was severely criticised. The committee decided that no decorations would be allowed on any of the wheels, One young woman in the Excelsior Cycle Club ranks, attired in a regulation cycling skirt and with a canopy attached to her whosh, presented a very neat appearance. While the parade was devoid of any accidents, numerous amusing incidents occurred.

The parade was scheduled to start promptly at 2 o'clock, but as early as 10 o'clock Prospect Pack and the roads leading to the Ocean Boulevard were crowded with speciators. The wheel-men assembled on Eastern Parkway, in the vicinity of Bedford avenue, and the wide walks along the parkway were crowded.

At the southern entrance to the park and for half a mile along the boulevard spectators were lined four deep. It was 2:30 o'clock when the military aids sounded the assemila). At that time about 7,000 riders were present. This number was increased to fully 8,000 before the parade got well under was Charles S. Lacomb, ex. President of the League of American Wheelmen, officiated as Grand Morshol. His assistants were:

The police brigade of seventeen men, mounted on bicycles, in charge of Sergeants Williams and Conklin, made a line appearance. They were ordinary uniforms, with short white learnings from their shoc tops to knees. Although novices at cycling, they rode admirably. The military men also came in for a great share of applause. Following Grand Marshal Luscomb were fifty members of the Thirteenth Regiment in uniforms and meunied on wheels. Brooklyn's crack regiment, the Twenty-third, followed the thirteenth.

Among the becycle clubs the Brooklyns, the oldest organization of the kind in the city, were not the head of the line. Color Bearer Fletcher, carrying the cherry and black of the club, was followed by one hundred odd members. They appeared in neat dark blue uniforms, with caps to match, and were white gloves. They were not only received with er thusiasm all along the line, but won the prize for the club making the neatest appearance. After the Brooklyns came these clubs:

Long Island, Kinrs Counts Wheelmen, Prospect Wheelmen, Brooklyn Bambiera, South Brooklyn Wheelmen, Andty Wheelmen, Bishwick Wheelmen, Recreation Wheelmen, Now Etreek, Wheelmen, Twenty-third Regiment Wheelmen, Seet Wheelmen, Paleon Wheelmen, County Wheelmen, Christon Wheelmen, Christon Wheelmen, Christon Wheelmen, Christon Wheelmen, High School Wheelmen, County County Wheelmen, High School Wheelmen, County County Wheelmen, Landon Perior, Cita, Midwoor Club, Wheelmen, Cressent Athielic Wheelmen, Polytechnic Treparat. avie. The Booklyn Ricycle Club had the greatest number of men in line, and they will likely receive another prize for this too.

During the parade all vehicles were excluded from Prospect Park. The line of march was through the park and down the Boulevard to the excle pathway, thence to Coney Island.

A large banner from the Park Commissioners and the Brooklyn Good Ronds Association, extending a welcome to all wheelmen, hung krooss the entrance to the pathway. The reviewing stand was at Parkville, where the city officials and prominent cycling men reviewed the paralle. The stand was crowded to over flowing. It is estimated that fully 500 women work part in the parade.

Three small girls, attired in white, the Misses Selw albach, were heartily applicated. The paralle broke up at Parkville after the reviewing stand had been passed, but the majority of the riders continued on to Manhantian Beach.

There is a feeling among all race meet promoters this year that loading races must be stopped, and with that object in view the refereys at the various meets have instructions to place time limits upon the races. In some cases the racing men disapprove of stiff time limits, and this year it is to be the rule that in all races where the time limit is not reached the race will be declared off entirely. At Syracuse on Wednesday a time limit of 1 minute 12 seconds was placed as the half-mile class it race. The ralers took their time and finished in 1 minute 10 4-5 seconds, and as a result it was declared no race. The class A men rule their half-mile open race in 1 minute 3 1-5 seconds.

Fredh Loeserv Co, Fredh Loeserv Co,

the Cornell Crew.

The critic who contributes special articles on English 'varsity sport to London Sporting Life refers to the Cornell Henley crew in the issue of June 5 as follows: "Never since the Harvard University four of do has such a formidable American combination thrown down the gauntlet to native talent. or been more quietly confident of success. The Yankees are a sanguine people, I know, proverbially so. Yet when we learn, on the authority of Mr. De Vere Hunt, one of the most fa-mous 'wetbob' critics in the States, that 'the crew descreedly carries with it the confidence of most transatiantic paramen,' depend upon it they must be labelled dan-gerous. This gentleman to whom many thanks-has courteously written that the prowess of the Cornell eight has in no wise been exaggsrated, for 'rum 'uns to look at, they are beggars to go,' quoth he. He informs us that Mr. Courtney, the Cornell 'coach,' has had a poorish time of it of late, for, as has been truly said, the skipper of a representative crew is a man who has to put together a complex machine formed of human beings. Hiessed with any amount of class talent, only after infinite trouble and nice discrimination was the 'survival of the fittest' consummation brought to pass. But, devoting to this compound Frank-ensieln an amount of time and attention which would almost smittle him to preside over an episcopal syned, he finds ample reward in the result. According to Mr. Hunt, our very best crews will have foemen worthy their steel for the 'Grand,' which, coming from such a source, I verily believe. However, in short space we shall see with our own eyes what they shape like, after which comment, we, of the Sporfing Life, give a hearity welcome to the Cornell men, and trust they will have a pleasurable solourn in the old country."

In this table the ferfeited games are counted as having een played and the non-offending club credited with the points for a victory, the America's team being the last to be favored in this manner by the Scottlsh-Americans. The Centrevilles scored 55 goals to 21 for their opponents, the Scottlsh-Americans 20 to 43, and the American 14 to 43.

The winning club will receive a handsome aliver cup, and each player will be presented with a gold medal. The players of the second team will each receive a sliver medal. The cup has been already purchased, and there is a fund in the treasury for the purchase of the medals, but, in order that these may be of a substantial kind, it has been arreed to play another game, the net proceeds of which will go to the league. This will take place at the Centrevilles' ground. Bayonne, on Sunday next, and will be between the champion team and a picked cleven of New York and Brooklyn.

The league will be reorganized early next fall, when several new clues are expected to join and form a more lengthy and interesting schedule.

The trotting meeting announced for July 2 to 6 at Island Park, Albany, has been declared off on account of the small number of entries received. The dates for the Albany meeting concoived. The dates for the Albay Intelling con-flicted with those claimed for Frankile Park, Sangus, Mass., and it appears that the principal stables now campaigning in the East will go to the latter meeting. Three of the fast clauses an-nounced for the coming meeting at the Park-way track in Brooklyn falled to fill and have been declared off, but all the other svents se-cured a large number of ontries.
